

Announcements

29 January 2014

Lab Exercises (week 4 and on)

Starting THIS week:

You must do all lab exercises on your own (without a partner).

Attending lab hours is optional.

You may attend any of the drop-in hours to get help.

The week 4 exercise is available on the Classroom Response System:

https://mcs.utm.utoronto.ca/pcrs_108/student/quests

Lab Exercises (cont'd)

You can submit as many times as you like until the deadline. The number of attempts doesn't matter. What matters is whether it is correct or not.

If a coding question has test cases, you need to pass all of them to get credit.

Worksheet Reminder for Next Week

Please bring the While Loops worksheet with you next time. We will finish the worksheet in the beginning of class.

If possible, try to work through the remaining questions on your own before class.

Print vs. Return - Quiz Yourself!

Are you still uncertain about the difference between print and return?

Use the following example to quiz yourself!

<http://tinyurl.com/moco8sm>